PROJECT UPDATE: July 6, 2018
Issue No. 29

Let the construction activity begin!

SNLH Director of Engineering Chris Lemar sent a detailed email message to all staff on July 2. Here are some highlights, plus some extra details, that bear repeating:

July 5-6: Engineering staff have begun changing parking signs and painting stripes in anticipation of the parking plan going into effect on Monday, July 9. The temporary staff parking area located at 3011 NE West Devils Lake Road is mostly completed, with the land leveled and parking lines painted.

July 7-8: Parking spaces on the east and south side of the campus will be blocked over the weekend to avoid having to move vehicles on Monday morning.

July 9: Construction activities on the site will officially begin! Perimeter fencing and temporary interior and exterior wayfinding signage will be installed, the hospital main entrance will be closed except for emergency exit and access to the helipad, and extra volunteers will be stationed at the two remaining public entrances. Please remember to allow yourself a bit more time coming to work beginning on Monday, as everyone gets used to the new parking arrangement. See parking and construction information sheets attached to this email for more detailed information.

Beginning July 9: Soon after the fencing is installed, the general contractor—Skanska USA Building, based out of Portland—will put erosion control, storm water management and tree protection measures in place. This will take about one week. Then, the sitework contractor—Knottworks Construction of Lincoln City—will begin clearing and grubbing the site, removing soil, plants, light poles, asphalt and other items.

Beginning late August: Once the site has been leveled, approximately 130 foundation piles will be driven some 80 to 85 feet into the ground, to support the new building. Then, concrete foundations will be poured, followed by the assembly of the steel framework for the building.
