PROJECT UPDATE: Aug. 23, 2019
Issue No. 50

New SNLH campus building naming system

When the new Samaritan North Lincoln Hospital and campus are completed, including the remodeling and repurposing of the former Health Professions Education Center (HPEC), it just won't do to call that building "Old HPEC." But, what should we name a building that was originally constructed as a nursing home and later turned into offices, conference rooms, medical student housing and storage?

In its next stage of life, the building will house physical, occupational and speech therapy, along with a variety of offices that will serve the public as well as our own employees. Many names were considered—until it was decided that a building numeric system would be the most logical, given the dozen or so distinct buildings on our campus.

There is currently a building number system, mostly used by Plant Engineering, but the numbers follow no predictable pattern. Building 11 is between Buildings 3 and 5. Building 2 is next to Building 7. So, it was decided to renumber all the buildings in a clockwise order, beginning with the new hospital as No. 1. Will the new hospital be called Building 1? Most certainly not! But, it's a good starting point on a map to help visitors and patients navigate. So, farewell to Old HPEC and welcome to Building 5!
